Fact-Finding Group Gives 6 Points

Washington, Sept. 2.—(AP)—British, American and Canadian officials ended their preliminary fact-finding conference today reportedly agreed on suggesting six steps for easing Britain's financial crisis.

The big question of how Britain is to earn enough dollars to meet its expenses was left unanswered as the negotiators adjourned their week-

This critical problem will be handed to the top cabinet officers of the three governments who meet here Wednesday in hope of discovering a long-range formula to solve the kingdom's dollar shortage.

State and treasury department officials refused to discuss results of the sessions which ended today. The tentative agenda agreed upon, they said, would be submitted to

Officials connected with the talks, however, acknowledged they are still pessimistic about the chances that the coming top level meeting will succeed in finding a way to reverse Britain's economic slump in the near future.

Although the terms of the agenda to be proposed for the cabinet officers were kept secret, it was learned that these six main points will be:

1. A new reduction in British buying from the United States in favor of purchases from non-oil areas offering "alternate sources" of sup-

2. Simplifying and streamlining American customs regulations to

3. Relaxing the terms of the 1946 British loan agreement to allow Britain to discriminate during the financial reconstruction period.

4. An intensive drive by the British government to advertise, distribute and package its wares in the United States better as a means of

5. Speeding up American government purchases of such strategic materials as rubber and tin to provide commonwealth nations with money needed in the next few

6. More American loans to, and purchases from, southeast Asian members of the British commonwealth to lessen their demands on Britain for dollars.

Russia Sends Czechs Transport Bill In Dollars

Prague—(P)—Business is business, even among the professed adherents of the strict Marxist-Leninist line. Czechoslovaks got further proof of this recently when the Russians handed them a bill—in dollars—for the transport of a Czechoslovak track and field team to an invitational meet in Moscow.

Upon their return some of the athletes said that, although they lost on points, they had profited in "a great lesson in socialism." A month later the Russians also gave them "a whacking stiff bill" for the ride—to Moscow and back—in Russian transport planes. The Russians asked dollars, no Czech crowns or Soviet rubles.

Bridegroom 92 Times, He's True To His Wife

KISS FOR THE BRIDEGROOM is Tom Finigan's reward for standing in as Grace Allen's proxy husband. Miss Allen, of Louisville, Miss., was proxy-married to an Army chaplain, Lt. S. E. Boston, in this ceremony, which was Finigan's 92nd such affair.

By MARY C. FLYNN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Kansas City, Kans.—(P)—Getting married is old stuff to Tom Finigan, who has said "I do" 92 times. But he's been a proxy bridegroom.

And, does Mrs. Finigan object to her husband holding hands—and sometimes being kissed—by the brides? She hardly is in a position to offer objections—she has been a proxy bride 32 times herself.

Explaining the kisses, 52-year-old Finigan, who is a lawyer, says "Sometimes the brides just get carried away with exuberance after the wedding ceremonies, and in the absence of their new husbands, they up and use me as their target."

Finigan is looking forward to his 100th wedding. If circumstances permit, he hopes to celebrate it by making it a formal affair "with all the trimmings." He noted his "golden proxy wedding anniversary" with a double-wedding ceremony.

The lawyer got his start as a stand-in bridegroom in 1943 when he was president of the Wyandotte County Bar Association in Kansas. A Chicago welfare officer wrote him, inquiring about Kansas proxy marriage laws. Kansas is one of the few states where such marriages are legal.

Men and women have come to Finigan from 34 states and he, his wife and secretary have served as proxies for wedding principals living in six European countries, North Africa, Asia and the Philippines.

There has been a steady decline in proxy marriages since the war. One marriage handled by Finigan was annulled by request and at least three others ended in divorce.

Finigan observed that the brides and bridegrooms probably react during the ceremony in the same way they would if their spouses-to-be were present.

ANT EATER CLEARS DRAIN

Scottsdale, Tasmania—(P)—The usual tools were useless to clear a length of 8-inch pipe clogged with dirt by rains. But the job got done in 15 minutes when a spiny ant eater, usually mislabeled the Echidna, was persuaded to enter the pipe. It is one of the world's two egg-laying mammals, the other being the Platypus. These two are the world's most primitive furred animals. With its sticky claws the spiny ant-eater can burrow with remarkable speed—even straight down, in hard earth.

Bonn Solons To Have Own Restaurant

Bonn, Germany—(P)—One of Europe's richest restaurants is rising here on the green banks of the Rhine just for the new West German parliament. You'll have to get elected to parliament—or know one of its members—to dine in it.

Public and press will be banned—so the parliamentary deputies can at least get some rest while they are eating," says Manager Paul la Roche. The east side of the restaurant, facing the Rhine, is built entirely of glass. Ensnored in green-leather chairs, deputies can gaze across a poplar-studded terrace at the storied Rhine river.

Newsman assigned to cover the new parliament will get a spacious establishment all their own. Several two-story buildings with soundproof rooms are going up near the parliament building just for the press. Newsman also will have a special restaurant for their use.

Town Has No Cemetery

Port St. Joe, Fla.—(P)—If you're figuring on dying and being buried right there, better stay away from Port St. Joe. This Gulf of Mexico town of 4,500 inhabitants doesn't have a cemetery, nor is there one close by.

T. H. Stone, 80, probably the oldest resident here, says he guesses people have just been content to carry their dead to cemeteries at Appalachicola 30 miles away, or We-wahitchka some 25 miles away. Only burial places nearer are small privately-owned plots.

Mayor Joe Sharrif says low elevation here is probably the reason for the lack of cemeteries here.

Christopher Columbus first saw land in the New World at San Salvador or Watling Islands in the Bahamas.

The proxy weddings are performed in the "Cupid's parlor" of the probate judge's office. Marriage certificates issued in a proxy marriage are identical to those given when both contracting parties are present for a civil ceremony.

Proxy marriages performed in Kansas are recognized throughout the United States, most foreign countries and by the armed services in issuing marriage allotments, and in handling immigration cases. A rigid legal procedure, which includes conformity to Kansas' serological test law, must be fulfilled by the proxy marriage party in the United States and by the one outside the country.

The Finigans celebrated their own 25th wedding anniversary last Valentine's Day. Just to make sure it would stand out over their proxy wedding anniversaries, they invited 300 friends to help them celebrate.

Paving Scheduled To Begin Next Week In City's Loop District

Paving operations in the loop district, where most of the streets are torn up for installation of storm sewers, probably will begin next week. East Morgan street east of the square is expected to be the first street to receive a new concrete surface, according to officials in charge of the work.

Concrete forms, a large mixer and other equipment will be moved to the loop district, where during the past several weeks excavation crews have been busy with storm sewer work and gas line connections.

Kenneth Stapleton, consulting engineer, said Friday morning that paving operations are expected to start on East Morgan, then to South Main, then to South Main, East College, West Morgan and South West streets, in that order.

Pave South Half First
Under the present plan the entire south half of the loop district will be paved before the north side is started. The new concrete pavement will be permitted to set 14 days, during which time curbs and sidewalks will be laid.

Walter Adams, superintendent of the Sangamo Construction Co., said the materials for paving will be unloaded east of the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio station. Sand, gravel and cement will be weighed and placed in trucks, then taken to the scene of paving operations. The concrete will be mixed on the streets that are being paved.

Officials in charge of the big project believe the concrete forms will be in place on East Morgan street by next week. Should actual paving not begin next week, everything will be in readiness for work the following week.

Public Bodes Hazards
Motorists and pedestrians are becoming more accustomed to barricades, broken sidewalks, ditches and other hazards in the loop district. Few automobiles have negotiated the streets now under construction and those that have only short distances.

Self-conscious pedestrians who a month ago wouldn't want to be seen coming out of alleys, now travel the back way without giving it a second thought. Everybody's doing it, because the alleys have become the most popular avenues of travel in the loop section.

Miss Wilma Sellars Weds C. H. Buescher

Peoria Church Scene Of Pretty Afternoon Rites

White gladioli and candelabra formed the background for the marriage of Miss Wilma Sellars and C. H. Buescher, which was solemnized in a double-ring ceremony performed by Dr. W. T. Smith on Sunday, Aug. 28, at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist church of Peoria.

MRS. C. H. BUESCHER

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sellars of Bradford. Mr. Buescher is the son of Mrs. Lena Buescher, 639 South Diamond street, and the late Henry H. Buescher.

Dr. Dean Hutchison, church organist, played a program of nuptial music as the guests were seated by Arthur Higgins, E. C. Wood and G. E. Williams. Melvin Gofrey of Peoria sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. James Fuiks of Bradford was the matron of honor. The best man was John Farrell of Warren, Pa.

White fallie gown, the gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was styled with princess lines, featuring bustle back and full skirt with a chapel train. The train below was trimmed with pearls and bugle beads.

A crown of seed pearls held in place the fingertip veil of imported silk net. Attached to the white Bible which the bride carried was a white camellia.

The matron of honor was attired in aqua taffeta fallie, fashioned after the bride's gown. She wore an aqua crown with short veil and carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses.

A reception for 125 guests was held in the church parlors. The serving table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, flanked by white gladioli. Serving were Mrs. Arthur Higgins, Mrs. Kenneth Gunn and Mrs. Henry Mellen.

For receiving the guests, the bride's mother chose a plum colored silk frock with black accessories and a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore an orchid crepe dress and black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

To live in Peoria After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Buescher left on a short wedding trip. For her going-away ensemble, the bride had a saddle brown silk print with black accessories and a camellia corsage. The couple will reside at 1310 Main street, Peoria.

Cleveland Is An Airport As Racers Start Program

Cleveland, Sept. 2.—(AP)—An airman's invasion turned this city into an airport annex today in anticipation of the national air races three-day program.

A B-36 type propeller turned slowly at a downtown intersection, model planes and flying gear filled store windows, and hotel guests brushed past bright exhibits of aircraft engines and equipment.

Grease-splattered jackets and covers topped by big-billed caps were as common as 10-gallon hats in Texas.

But the sure mark of an aviation assembly was the number of organization meetings. The federation aeronautique internationale, the world body for sport flying, convened on the east side as far as possible from the airport. The personal aircraft council, the National Aviation Trades association, The Racing Pilots, Women Pilots and Sunday or groups bent on having a say about aviation met during the afternoon and evening in downtown hotels.

Phillies Regain Fourth Place; Clip Braves 6-3

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A home run by Bill Nicholson and a two-run single by Willie Jones were the payoff blows tonight as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Boston Braves 6-3 and regained fourth place in the National League pennant race.

Nicholson's blow, his tenth homer of the year, tied the score in the seventh after the Braves had counted once in the fifth and twice in the sixth on circuit blows by Jeff Heath and Connie Ryan.

In the eighth the Phils put the seal on the game when they scored three times.

Detroit, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Virgil Trucks, top winner this year for the Detroit Tigers, breezed to his 16th victory of the season today, shutting out the Chicago White Sox 8-0.

Trucks kept 10 Chicago hits well scattered and only four White Sox runners reached second base. Meanwhile the Tigers bunched the same number of safe blows and scored most of their runs in clusters—four in the first inning, one in the fourth and three in the eighth.

Detroit batters lost no time in pouncing on right-hander Mickey Haefner, the Chicago pitcher who beat them soundly the last time they faced him.

Frankie Parker Drops Top Alien From Tennis Meet

Forest Hills, Sept. 2.—(AP)—They finally left Frankie Parker, the old boy wonder, play in the big stadium today, and he reacted to the famed surroundings by knocking the top seeded foreigner, Eric Sturgess of South Africa, right out of the national tennis championships.

For four days the two-time former champion, for some opaque reason, had been forced to perform on remote outside courts. When he got in there before the crowd which always—some 15 years—has thought he was great, Frankie put on a brilliant performance and fairly throttled the player who reached the finals a year ago against Pancho Gonzales. The scores were 6-3, 6-8, 6-1, 6-4.

In one of tomorrow's four quarter-final matches, Frankie, forgotten man of U. S. Davis Cup team, will face Gardner Mulloy, the 35-year-old Miami star who was seeded a notch above him in the championships. As he played today, Parker will stand at least an even chance to reaching Sunday's semi-final against, probably, Gonzales.

Sturgess' defeat left only two foreigners among the eight survivors, Frank Sedgman, the youthful Australian champion; and Jaroslav Drobny, self-exiled Czech star. Both are in the lower bracket with Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., Wimbledon champion and No. 3 seeded player.

Sophomore Triple Threat

Sixteen-year-old Johnny Walker is taking on a lot of responsibility as a sophomore veteran on Bob Kraushaar's 1949 grid squad. As practice sessions continue, head coach Kraushaar is leaning more and more heavily on Walker's strong pitching arm and heavy boot. The close-cropped blond youngster, who was a regular as a freshman last year, will pass, kick and carry the ball from his fullback slot when the Crimsons meet Pittsfield here on the night of Sept. 16.

Brooks Shutout Giants 8-0 Behind Newcombe; Cut Cardinal Lead

New York, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Don Newcombe registered his third straight shutout tonight, pitching the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 8-0 victory over the New York Giants. The triumph reduced the St. Louis Cardinals' first place lead over them a game and a half.

A crowd of 44,248 watched the big Brooklyn right-hander handuff the Giants with five singles as he extended his consecutive scoreless string to 30 innings.

He previously had blanked the Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates and held the Boston Braves runless in the last three innings. Don fanned seven to the Boston's Warren Spahn at 119 strikeouts.

Lefty Dave Koza started for the Giants but failed to get by the fourth inning. He gave up six runs. Every man in the Dodger lineup hit safely except Gil Hodges. Peeewe Reese, Jackie Robinson and Newcombe had two safeties apiece.

Paul Stroud Conducts Double Practice For 27-Man Squad Friday

Coach P. J. Stroud broke the ice on Routt 6-man football practice Friday morning when he greeted a squad of 27 grid aspirants with a two-hour running and calisthenic session. He followed with two more hours of passing and kicking drills in the afternoon which combined to give the Routt athletes a strenuous workout in their first time out, 16 and 19 players.

Stroud, who is being assisted by Illinois College student Dick Johnson, confided that he expected a full squad of 30 boys to be in Rocket grid togs by next week. The youthful mentor, beginning his second year of coaching at the local east-side school, reported that the majority of his charges were in good shape already and that he would probably start tackling and other contact work next Tuesday.

Boys Show Enthusiasm
"The boys show a lot of enthusiasm," said Stroud. Football is not entirely new to the Routt boys since most of them were students in Our Saviour's grade school when Rocket grid machines were mowing opponents down in yesteryears. The newly formed 2-C 6-man conference has given Routt, with a student enrollment of 109, a chance to revive the fall sport.

Stroud has three weeks to prep his boys for the home opener which will see the Rockets tangle with Arenzville Thursday night, Sept. 22, on the local Northside turf. His squad faces a six-game schedule this season. The chart has appeared in several previous editions of this paper.

New gold and white jerseys will be worn by the Routt huskies. Stroud also ordered new black leather helmets which have not yet arrived. Pants and pads were not needed since the school was well stocked for eleven man football five years ago.

Practice Twice Today
Stroud revealed that he will hold another two practice today, and then gives his grid aspirants a rest until Tuesday when classwork is slated to get underway.

Not a single Routt athlete has had any previous formal football training. All five teams in the 2-C conference are alike in this respect. In fact, Routt is the only school that has maintained a football team at any time.

Several boys were pointed out as possessing a lot of natural talent. Ill. team, to break her contract and Paul Bamer and Jack Murphy look to the other league for a higher ed especially good in the punting salary and bonus.

Such acts, the suit contended, A. J. Spreen, two mainstays on the Rocket basketball team last year, were filching some nice passes during yesterday afternoon's light workout.

Girls Baseball League Sues Rival For Player Raids

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The All-American girls baseball league sued a rival league for $25,000 damages today, claiming raids on its players. The suit, filed in Superior Court, asked an injunction restraining the National Girls Baseball League; the Music Molds, Inc. one of its teams; Arch Wolfe, league president; and Frank Darling, Music Molds manager, from conducting the alleged raids.

The suit said the Music Molds caused Betty Tucker, a player on the All-American league's Peoria, Ill., team, to break her contract and join the rival league for a higher salary and bonus.

Negro Charities Fistic Tourney Fails To Draw

Chicago, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Slim Saddy, New York, former world's featherweight champion, tonight administered a one-sided 10 round lacing to Harold Ende, Chicago, former bantamweight titleholder, in a disappointingly attended boxing show for Negro charities in the Chicago stadium.

The bout was one of two bonafide contests which were mixed with exhibitions by six world's champions, including Joe Louis in the role of a referee.

Charity took it on the chin since the attendance was only 7,573 when the gate estimated at $22,000. At 13 decision over the New York least $16,000 was needed to realize a profit.

Eastern College All-Stars Defeat N. Y. Giants, 28-13

New York, Sept. 2.—(AP)—A well-drilled eastern college All-Star eleven, tutored for 18 days by Yale, defeated the New York Giants, 28-13, in a decision over the New York least $16,000 was needed to realize a profit.

Playing before 32,094 fans last night at the Polo Grounds in the second round of the annual fresh air fund football game, the collegians the chin and followed with merciless body punches. Saddy let through all the way, the Stars scored twice: the end of sustained drives and a turned pass interceptions into two additional touchdowns.

Bobby Jack Stuart and Rip Rowan, Sullivan of Dartmouth and Gene Rossides and Lou Kierow of Col. umbia were the big guns for the collegians.

The Giants were their own worst enemies with three touchdowns, Kennington, Penn. Charlie did not extend himself at any time.

Red Sox Pound Athletics 8-4; Cut Yankee Edge

Boston, Sept. 2.—(AP)—With Al Zarilla lashing an inside-the-park homer with two on, the Boston Red Sox trounced the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-4, tonight before a packed 33,897 crowd. The win enabled the Soxers to cut the idling New York Yankees' top place lead to two and a half games.

The Soxers wrapped up the game in the opening inning against Phil Marchildon by belting him for five runs, three of which Ebbey Doerr accounted for by lashing his 15th homer with Johnny Pesky and Junior Stephens aboard.

Jack Kramer opened for the Red Sox but was yanked for Joe Doherty, who was credited with the win. In the third, Kramer walked two and then was belted for two buggers by Sam Chapman and Pete Suder for three runs.

FRISCILLA'S POP

Steps to the Moon

THE STORY: Although Gaynel Fritz has created a proposal of marriage from wealthy Barry Bainbridge of Detroit, Gaynel is in love with Fritz Friedman, who is not wealthy. Gaynel is the breadwinner for her family consisting of a brother, Benny, who seldom holds a job, a young sister Pat, and Gaynel's mother, Emily. She would herself see that marriage to Barry will solve many problems. Now on a Sunday excursion with Fritz, Gaynel realizes that there are problems ahead. How can she talk so lightly about taking on the responsibilities of marriage without a bank account? "I don't quite see how we can get married," Fritz, she says.

Steps to the Moon

XXIII
HE drew his long legs up, turned and stared at her. "You don't see how... Look here, gorgeous, do you know what you're saying? Of course we're going to get married. We're nuts about each other, aren't we? I've a job now that can take care of us."
"Hold on a minute!" He would not let her interrupt. "I know you still make more dough per week than I do, but this is only a starter for me. We can get along swell, the two of us. What do you mean—take on a family?"
"I mean," she studied the tips of her fingers, "that there are more than just the two of us to consider: that I have certain responsibilities—to my family, Fritz. I can't just step out of them and run away."
"Please!" She stopped her now, when he would have interrupted. "You hold on a minute, darling; let me talk. There are a lot of things you don't understand. Things that go back; a long way. Back to that day when my father was found dead in his car in our garage—after his business had failed."
"I found him," Fritz. "I'll never forget." She closed her eyes a moment, as though to shut out that memory; then opened them, as though to force herself to face it again. "It was a lovely fall morning, a day like this. I'd promised Barry I'd meet him at 6 for a set of tennis. I remember, even now, how I felt, running out of the house, the world such a beautiful place, so secure, so singing, so safe—the way it had always been for me, the way I supposed it always would be.

"And then something—I'll never know what—made me stop a moment at the garage, open the door. That was when I found my father, his head slumped over the wheel, one foot as though he had tried to get out. That was what made me so sure it wasn't suicide. I knew he couldn't have done that to us—the ones he loved."
"Poor kid," Fritz said; he caught her hands in his. "That was a tough break."
"It was an accident," Gaynel insisted. "But of course people said it wasn't. It was hard to make people believe differently after they found out that father had turned over his own money in an effort to help save the bank. He was ruined—suicide seemed the answer."
"But if you knew how sheltered our lives always had been and then to have the whole world come toppling down on your head. That's why I'm telling you all this, Fritz." She looked at him now. "To try to make you see it all—so that you'll understand why I can't step out of the responsibilities I had to assume at that time."
"Mother was so bewildered, she didn't know what it was all about; she doesn't know yet. She's still living in the same world she always lived in. Benny is like her in that. He had to go on and finish college. He has to find a job that will be good enough, and suitable for him. Pat was only a child, still is..."
"And you became the breadwinner for the family," Fritz added. "Well, the cake-winner, at least," he did understand; it was not going to be so difficult after all. Maybe they could work it out together. Maybe they could...

"Fritz said, after a moment of silence. "But, my sweet, people can learn to do without cake. Lots have, you know. If the depression taught any lesson, it was that. Not the depression alone, but all the changes in this new world of ours. In other countries, as well as our own."
This was a new Fritz. A thinking, serious person. Almost she was afraid of him. Yet, she had known all along that there was that side of him, too. She loved him more because of it, if loving him more were possible.
"There's no room for cake-eaters," Fritz said. "Or for martyrs, either. Girls marry the man of their choice. I am your choice, aren't I, my love?" His blue eyes were teasing, but tender.
"You are," Gaynel vowed; her dark eyes saying much more than that.
"You're not thinking of marrying anyone else, then?"
"No. I couldn't marry anyone else. Now."
"Then we'll work it out some way," Fritz said. "Together."
That "together" was sufficient. For the present, at least. It sounded so tremendous that it surely could surmount all time, remove all obstacles.
She said, "You darling..." and turned her head, so that he would not see the tears that pressed behind her eyelids. She was a sentimental fool. But a happy one. He was so unutterably dear. It was grand to be in love. She wasn't afraid any more.
"What you need," he said, "is some food. Nothing like it to strengthen the morale and start the brain in the box ticking. We'll dine, Gay, and then we'll talk this out. And what's even more to the point, by that time it will be dark and I can make you listen to me without all these people and animals nicker-necking."

WANT A HOME?
Let's figure it out—you want a five room home—your funds are limited.
Then buy an apartment house that costs $4,000 more than a cottage. This gives you your home now and the extra $4,000 means an added income to your salary of $120 per month—$1440 per year—32% interest on the $4,000.
Before long sell the apartment and pay cash for your new home. This is really practical and a short cut to home ownership.
Let us show you the apartment today and show you how to help yourself.

Attempts Robbery But Gets Works From Inn Patrons

Milwaukee, Sept. 2.—The guy had in mind a quiet, little tavern holdup but it was like falling into a concrete mixer.

Masked and armed, John Tomlinson, 28, recently freed from prison after a five-year stretch for burglary, walked into Frank Schmeberger's tavern early today. He announced the purpose of his call.

A patron, Louis Immenstern, 30, sports editor of the Deutsche Zeitung and a former soccer player, sent Tomlinson reeling with a backhand wallop. Another, Cecil Sorenson, 31, hit him with a beer bottle. Then both patrons pounced on Tomlinson, quickly relieving him of four teeth.

Tomlinson shouted to police as they entered: "Take me out of here quick before they kill me." Later at headquarters, he pointed to his assailants and told officers: "I don't want to be near them. They're nuts. That gun was loaded you know. I might have pulled the trigger."

Tomlinson was charged with assault with intent to rob while armed.

Man Figures To Lose 100 Pounds In 100-Day Fast

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Ignoring hunger pangs and hecklers, Percy the fat man dozed away in his little house atop a pole today as he got over "the hard part" of his 100-day fast.

A 340-pounder, the five-foot Percy Coplan maintains he'll stay up in the air until Dec. 4 in order to trim off at least 100 pounds. That figure is out at a pound a day.

This venture, Percy would have you know, is not a publicity stunt. He says it's in the interest of science. He wants to prove that "fasting and drinking pure water" will cure anything.

His own ailment, he said, is "sleeping sickness." It's been bothering him since he got a little stout. He gave a demonstration of that sickness last night after he had wheezed and panted his way up a fire department ladder—reinforced—to his new house atop a 20-foot steel pole.

A crowd of the curious dropped by
